'SARDIS' FAIR.

Third Day's Proceedings.

The Arena Exercises Very Interesting.

The Fair opened yesterday at nine o'clock with the display of stock in the arena. The morning was devoted to the exhibition of horned stock, mules, and the baby show.

Premiums were awarded as follows:

Best cow four years old and over; S H Gunter.

Best sucking calf; Houston Parrish.

Best Fatted cow; S H Gunter.

Best cow and calf; S H Gunter.

Best yoke of oxen; W H Walker.

Best pair draft mules; J C Brady.

Best pair draft horses; J C Brady.

Best pair coach horses; F B Irby.

The morning exercises closed with the baby show; Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Davis, of Como, receiving the first premium, and Col. S D and Mrs. Mollie Shands, of Senatobia, receiving the second premiums, for the finest babies. The premium is a fine baby carriage.

The evening exercises began with award of premiums to Best mare four years old and over; Marcellus Pointer.

Best mare three years old and under four; J C Harrison.

Best mare two years old and under three; B F Johnson.

The following young ladies, as judges, gave the premium for best horsemanship, any age, to Dr. A A Young, Como:

Misses Anna Irby, Bettie Partee, Mollie Franklin, Imogene Hicks, Ida Irby, Kate Smith, Carrie Glenn, Bettie Irby and Jennie Randolph.

The contest for the fastest pacer was the exciting event of the day. M W Wilbourn won the prize over nine competitors, against time.

There was a private premium of a ten dollar bundle awarded to J C Brady for the fastest pacer.

In the ladies' department premiums were awarded as follows:

Best sample of embroidery; Miss Fannie Hogan.

Best embroidered handkerchief; Miss Fannie Hogan.

Most handsome needle-case; Miss Jennie Brabun.

Watch-pocket; Miss Jennie Brabun.

Best talco dress; Miss Mattie Fitzgerald.

Picture frame; Mrs. G E Clarke.

Diplomas were awarded to Parker Bros. for best breech-loading gun for birds, and for field sports.

To W T Beard for best rifle and display of ammunition.

To Coyden Belt Company for cartridge belt.

To J. Rosmunson for horse shoes and nails.

The attendance yesterday was much better than many predicted. The number of people visiting the grounds during the day being not less than a thousand. The young ladies were out in force, and we have seldom seen so fair an array of beautiful ladies. In this respect the Fair was a splendid success.

To-day's arena exercises will be interesting. The test for the best buggy horse, mare or gelding, being the exciting event among the lovers of the turf.

The Fair has been only partially a success in having an attendance, while the exhibitions have been larger in some departments, but much smaller in others, so that upon comparison we find that the interest manifested is by no means so great as at any previous Fair. We hope that a full attendance to-day and tomorrow will make up for all past deficiencies.

The Superintendent of Department D, though a great lover of the fair sex, has two complaints to make against those who visit our fair. One is that each one who has entered any article for exhibition takes a dozen or so of very intimate friends and shows them the article and asks how it compares with others. This, of course, is told as a secret, but it happens somehow that before prizes are awarded nearly every lady knows to whom each article belongs, and the Superintendent is blamed for telling secrets.

The other is that nearly every lady will handle the articles on exhibition; yet if something of her's is handled by other ladies, she blames the Superintendent. Poor fellow!

The Concert Last Night.

The second one of the series of concerts given by the young ladies and gentlemen of the place for the benefit of the Episcopal Church was given last night to a crowded house of ladies and gentlemen. The entertainment was excellent and the audience highly pleased. Dr. McH. as "Paddy Miles' Boy" was the leading star; Wm. C. as "Jumbo Jim" was good; Eddy C. has genuine artistic wit in the minstrel line. It is said of Mr. Marshall that, acting in his fort, and that he should join a variety troupe. Miss Imogen H.

was escorted time and again in her beautiful recitation of Poe's Raven.

The tableau scene from Lalla Rookh, which our printer insists on styling "Love among the Roses," with Miss Mollie F. as leading character, supported by Misses Imogen H., Kate S., Pattie E., Annie H., Sallie T., Bettie P., Ella H., and Mr. J C R., was perfect in the beauty and loveliness of the ladies, for never did man gaze on a score of ladies more surpassing in their feminine charms.

Mrs. McF. and Mrs. L. favored the audience with several vocal and instrumental gems, followed by Miss Mollie F., and Miss Kate S., of Herndon. The singing of these ladies touched the tenderest chords of our soul, especially when they sang "Mollie Darling, do you love me?" which refrain was repeated by more than one heart, which would like to have asked the question.

The concert to-night will be very attractive. J. D. Hightower is acting ticket agent.

The gymnastic exercises were very fine for amateurs.

The ball at the Fair Grounds Friday night will be the grand affair of the season.

S. R. Blann has three fine carom billiard tables, and he is perfectly willing for them to be used by those who can pay for the pleasure.
